The Hot Air Balloon Festival is coming. Mr Frog tells the class that the four students who get the highest marks in the test will be awarded a ride on the hot air balloon in the Festival.

2

All students in the class want to take a ride on the hot air balloon. The four students who get the highest marks in the test are Lion Leo, Cat Mimi, Hippo Ting Ting and Squirrel Walala.

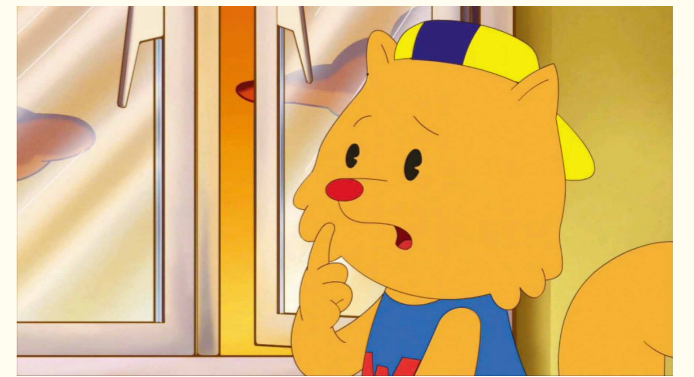

3

Rabbit Toto is very disappointed because she gets 97 marks, just one mark below the fourth highest and cannot get on the hot air balloon.

4

Walala finds that Mr Frog has made a mistake in counting his marks. He should have got 96 marks only. Walala thinks that if he tells Mr Frog the truth, he cannot get on the hot air balloon! What should he do?

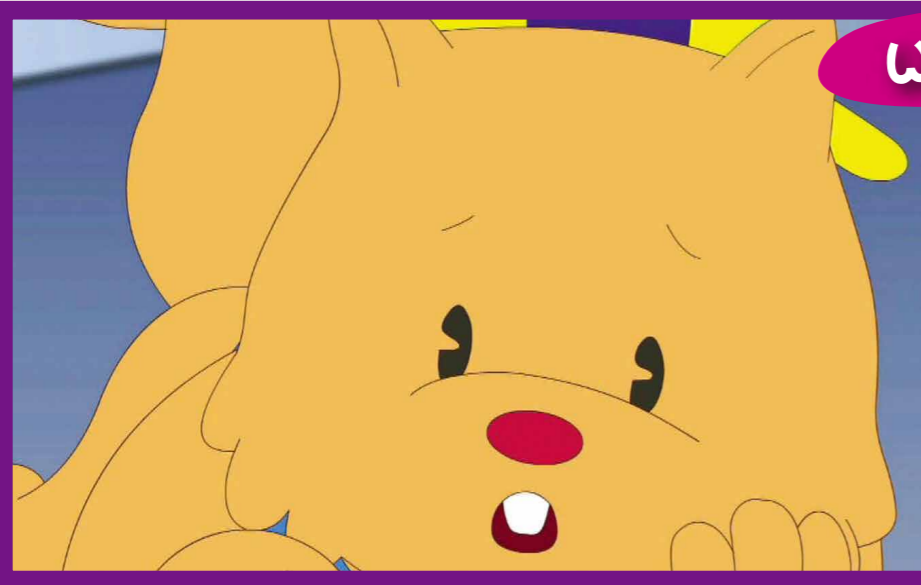

Walala's Choice

Walala doesn't know whether he should tell the truth. Please help him to make the right choice.

I think Walala should should not tell the truth. The reason is:

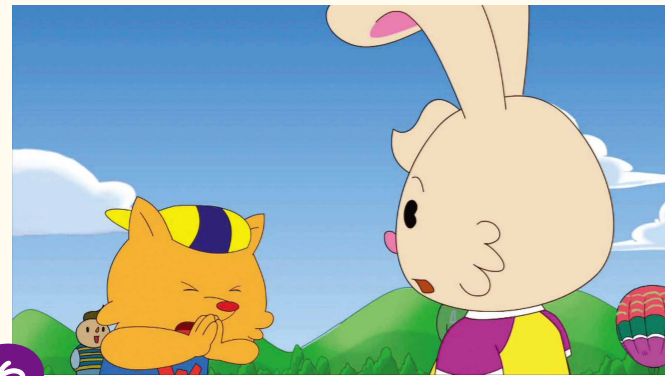

- Honesty is good conduct. It is unfair to Rabbit Toto if hiding the truth.
- The chance to have a ride on the hot air balloon will be lost if telling the truth.
- Telling the truth brings no regrets.
- Hiding the truth is shameful.
- Others : _____

On the day of Hot Air Balloon Festival, the students are ready to get on the hot air balloon. Right before the balloon takes off, Walala decides to tell the truth.

6

"Sorry, Rabbit Toto! The marks on my test paper were not correct! You should be the one to get on the hot air balloon." said Walala. Rabbit Toto thanks Walala for telling the truth and waves at him in the sky.

Although Walala really wants to have a ride on the hot air balloon, he feels no regrets in telling the truth. At this moment, Gee Dor Dor appears and appreciates the honesty of Walala. To compliment Walala, Gee Dor Dor realises Walala's dream of getting a ride on the hot air balloon.
