

Preventive education is as important as the deterrent effect of prosecution. The Community Relations Department carries out its statutory duties to educate the public against the evils of corruption and to enlist public support in the fight against corruption through the use of face-to-face contact, mass media and the Internet. It also collaborates with strategic partners in both private and public sectors to entrench a culture of integrity in the society, foster business ethics among corporations and inculcate positive values in young generations.
